

Solve ME/CFS Initiative

“The only way to understand ME/CFS and provide patients with the answers they desperately need is to produce the highest quality medical research.”

—Carol Head, President, Solve ME/CFS Initiative

SMCI's Board of Directors includes senior-level leaders in business, law, and science who each have a personal connection to the disease.

Our Research Advisory Council, composed of highly respected scientists from diverse fields, shares its expertise and counsel in all research matters.

help us SOLVE ME/CFS

Solve ME/CFS Initiative relies on the generous support of patients, family members, and friends to sustain our important work. When you support us, you stand united with thousands of like-minded people who understand the devastation of this disease.
